Another year has passed, and another class is standing at the portals. The year has been an eventful one for all of us. The return of brothers and friends from the war, the presence of veterans on the campus, and the plans for a greater Salem have re-vitalized life here. In the midst of our busy life in the class room and on the campus, however, we have been constantly reminded of the past.

For one hundred seventy-five years girls have been coming to Salem. Each one has left a part of herself to enrich the life here, but each has taken a part of Salem with her. This heritage is ours. In the boxwood walks and quiet lawns among the ivy-covered buildings, we feel a kinship with those girls who have gone before and with those who will come after. We are proud of the traditions of Salem. With gratitude and love for her past and with faith in her future, we dedicate this annual to

TO THE SENIORS

A college annual such as this copy of SIGHTS AND INSIGHTS is far more than merely another book. Each page is a living picture of alert personalities who share together the day by day pathways of college life. Each page speaks and lives; these eager students' faces bear the imprint of fellowship, zeal, cheerfulness, and high purpose.

This 1947 SIGHTS AND INSIGHTS brings together, college-wise, an animate group of students, of whom Salem is proud, concerning whom Salem is happy and for whom Salem dreams usefulness and efficiency.

I salute these eager pages.
